My mentor was very honest with feedback
and such support
propelled me in the right direction from the start.

Kaori

I didn't know anything about stock picking when I joined and it's been a steep learning curve. As an equity analyst, no two days are the same and I learn something new every day.

The consistent pursuit of excellence across all teams makes for a demanding but rewarding environment.

Neha

MBA, Harvard Business School
Investment Analyst

Orbis embodied a lot of what I was looking for after a few years on the buy side – intellectual honesty, meritocracy, humility, and an active dislike for group think.

Michael

MA in Natural Sciences, University of Cambridge

The most rewarding thing is that I've been able to influence how
we've done things
since day one.

Claire

PhD Example Based Image Processing, Trinity College Dublin

Each day, I have an opportunity to grow and develop,
challenging me to get the best out of myself
and those around me.
